Armstrong Flooring offers durable, safe, and beautiful flooring products to help you create world-class experiences for guests.

Brief Sustainability Statement

At Armstrong Flooring, sustainability simply means good business. Over 100 years ago, a simple, sustainable innovation – recycling cork in to flooring – launched our flooring business. Today, we continuously looking opportunities to be more environmentally, economically, and socially sustainable. From material transparency and waste reduction, to our robust recycling program that has diverted 75,000+ tons of material from landfills, we provide you the tools you need to select the sustainability attributes that matter most.
